Keywords

Java, Go, AWS, Python, PostgreSQL, MySQL

Work experience

[2020-...] Senior Software Engineer @ Soda (remote; HQ in Brussels, Belgium)

My role was soda.io Cloud Backend founding engineer (since late spring 2025 also a member of the platform “Foundational” team). Programming languages I used were Java, Python and Go.

I became the company backend guy & MySQL perf guy and helped the company grow 100x in customers and revenue over 5 years without high-profile incidents of the Soda Cloud product. I had a multi-hat impact on org through domain, infra and system design. Maintainer of Soda k8s agent, Vault Decrypter, warehouse source preparation, public API, OpenAPI generator, custom DI/DB framework and other complex features and mini-services.

I made an internal platform CLI tool (dopy / dogo) for many painful DevOps automation tasks - v1 Python, v2 Go (APIs from AWS/Okta/Datadog/k8s/soda cloud, SQLite, Perfetto).

[2017-2020] Expert Software Engineer @ TomTom (Ghent, Belgium)

MPU Core Coverage Creation & Extension Team

Selected closed source personal projects

- Home Laboratory: a hybrid cluster (arm/amd, RPis/NUC Proxmox, home/Oracle Cloud) connected using Tailscale, and with a Synology NAS. Uses Ansible for foundational setup and HashiCorp Nomad for container scheduling (40+ services like Gitea, Minecraft, yarr, etc.). Deep monitoring via Grafana Stack and InfluxDB. Slowly migrated to k3s.
- Thought Train (Go, PostgreSQL, NATS, htmx) my main side project: a feature-rich web page content extraction, note taking & book annotation distributed service; utilizes an ANTLR Search Query grammar, Pulumi AWS and with dedicated mobile applications (Android, iOS, using Flutter) and a Chrome Extension (Svelte)
- Batler (Go): personal Telegram bot I use for homelab automation tasks and as the main notification pipeline
- Novinarnica (Go): content crawler and CBR packager of magazines
